POINT OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

REP. SATROM rose on a point of personal privilege.

REMARKS OF REPRESENTATIVE SATROM

MR. SPEAKER: I am honored to represent this body on the ND Commission on Legal Defense of Indigents and I rise today to celebrate an anniversary. On this day, 58 years ago, the United States Supreme Court issued an opinion recognizing the accused's right to counsel in a criminal matter. When an individual is charged with a crime, the United States Constitution requires the state to provide lawyers to those who would otherwise not be able to afford it. Juveniles were added in 1967. North Dakota meets these constitutional mandates through the North Dakota Commission on Legal Counsel for Indigents. The Commission is the state agency that provides services to individuals when there is a constitutional, statutory or rule-based right to counsel. Mr. Speaker and members of the Assembly, please join me in recognizing the dedication and effort of the North Dakota Commission on Legal Counsel's lawyers, staff and contract attorneys who provide this service in the great state of North Dakota. We say in the pledge of allegiance at the start of every floor session the words, justice for all. We owe a heartfelt thanks to the men and women of the Commission who help to make this a reality for all North Dakota citizens.

MOTION

REP. LOUSER MOVED that the remarks of Rep. Satrom be printed in the Journal, which motion prevailed on a voice vote.

Invocation and CommentsSpeaker Kim Koppelman

Thank you all for joining us here today. We welcome family members of our former colleagues who have passed away since the last Legislative Session, as we honor your loved ones. Thank you to those of you who are here, in person, and also to those who are joining us virtually, participating online. Welcome, all. I would also like to acknowledge Governor Burgum and First Lady Kathryn, who are unable to be with us, in person, today, but are also joining us virtually. Finally, we have another long-time North Dakota public servant with us, a former member of the House of Representatives and Senate, former Lt. Governor and former Superintendent of Public Instruction—Please join me in welcoming Wayne Sanstead. The longer we serve in the Legislature, the more names listed on the program of the Memorial Service are much more than names to us. They are friends and colleagues. This struck home for me, personally, more than ever this year because not only are several who we honor today former colleagues of mine, but one, Rep. Laurel Thoreson, was also my running mate and longtime colleague from District 13. It is with reverence that we enter into this service today. Please join me in prayer. Our gracious Heavenly Father, thank you. Thank you for your blessings and your guidance in our lives. Thank you for these who served in this chamber, for your word tells us that "there is no authority except from God and those which exist are established by God". Because of that, we know that it is only by your will that those we remember today served here. It was by your calling and by your design. The people of North Dakota are better for their service and we thank you for that, today. We also ask your blessing on this time together, that you bless those who have traveled here, that you bless the memory of those they loved, that you bless those of us who are privileged to honor them today, and that your presence is felt by all within the sound of our voices. We ask these things in Jesus Name. Amen.

INTRODUCTION

Speaker Kim Koppelman

Today, we have the honor of having with us a friend and former colleague, former Rep. Jay Seibel from Beulah, North Dakota. Rep Seibel participated in the Memorial Service when he served in the House, has worked in a field familiar with the pain of loss of loved ones and, as with us all, will one day be remembered in the chambers, just as those we honor today. Welcome, Rep. Seibel. Would you please come and share some thoughts with us today?

Remarks

Former State Representative Jay Seibel

Mr. Speaker, Memorial Service Committee members, members of the Assembly, legislative staff, and family members of our colleagues we are honoring today. It is my great pleasure to have been asked to make a few remarks here today. I was told that I have five to ten minutes, but anyone that knows me knows how I love to talk, so I will try my best to stay within those time restraints. I was blessed to serve in this chamber during the 2015 and 2017 sessions. I look back fondly on those four years and am thankful for the many great friendships that I was able to make and sustain. I come today with a thankful heart: thankful to be living in this great state, thankful for our elected officials still serving today, thankful for the service and dedication of our colleagues who have passed away since the last session and thankful for their loved ones here with us today, and thankful for our loving and caring God. To Him be all glory. My wife, Karen, and I live in the Beulah-Hazen area, actually north of Beulah at Beulah Bay. We are the parents of two wonderful young adults, Jared and Kendra, and grandparents of two amazing granddaughters, Thea and Ellery. We are the past owners of Seibel Funeral Homes of Beulah and Hazen. I currently manage Stroup Insurance Agency for Union State Banks and Karen, a retired nurse, nannies our granddaughters. As I said earlier, I served in the North Dakota House during the 2015 and 2017 sessions. Deciding whether to run again in 2018 was a very difficult decision, as I had been hired by Union State Bank in August of 2017. After much prayer, I decided not to run in November 2018. This turned out to be a very good decision as on December 6, 2018, I was diagnosed with stage-three colon cancer. What a shock to us, since I had zero symptoms. On December 17, 2018, I had surgery to remove the tumor along with fourteen inches of my colon and a bunch of lymph nodes. I was able to go home in time to celebrate my Savior's birth with my family, as I got out of the hospital on December 24, 2018. My first of twelve chemotherapy treatments was on January 16, 2019, and my last was on June 19, 2019. I received my treatments every other Wednesday and went home on a pump until Friday, then repeat in two weeks. Not the most fun or pleasant ordeal, but we made it. I have had follow ups every six months since, and praise the Lord, I remain cancer free at this point. If it were not for my faith, and the prayers of many, many people, I would not be here today. I was blessed to have such a great group of prayer warriors praying on my behalf. Immediately, we were at peace as we knew one of two things was going to happen. God was either going to heal me and allow me to remain here or he was going to heal me and take me home. Philippians 4:4 says, "Rejoice in the Lord always. Again I say, rejoice!" And verses 6 and 7 say, "Be anxious for nothing, but in everything, by prayer and supplication, with thanksgiving, let your requests be made known to God; and the peace of God, which surpasses all understanding, will guard your hearts and minds through Christ Jesus." This, to me, explains why I was at such peace during this whole ordeal. It wasn't me, but it was a peace given to me by my heavenly Father. Selfishly I was hoping to be healed here on earth, but I was ready if it was my time to be called home. Many people marveled at my strength during this time, but that strength did not come from me. As for strength, Philippians 4:13 is my favorite verse in the entire Bible. It says, "I can do all things through Christ who strengthens me." Wow, what a blessing this is. I am weak, but He is strong. I realize now that without faith and prayer, I would not have had enough strength to get through the ordeal or accomplish anything. I thank God daily for the gift of faith, family, friends and prayer warriors. But most of all I am extremely thankful for the gift of salvation through grace. Speaking of prayer to you, the family of our past house members that have gone before us, please know that you are in our prayers. We pray for strength for you as you grieve the loss of your loved ones. Thank you for sharing their time and talents with the legislature and the people of the great state of North Dakota. Know that you are not alone as you grieve and adjust to life without them. To those currently serving, also know that we pray for you daily as you deal with all of the issues you must face and consider. I personally thank each and every one of you for taking the time to work so hard on behalf of your constituents and our great state. I know that your jobs are not easy ones, but again, thank you for taking the time to do the best you can. Thank you for having me here today. It has been a great honor.

Memorial Poem

"Yesterday"

Composed and read by Representative Bernie Satrom

Yesterday...they left their work, their farms, their businesses, their homes.

Sent by their families, friends, neighbors, and communities to this place.

Yesterday...they were here. They sat in these chairs. Their voices rang in these halls. They pushed, they pulled, not for themselves, but for others and for the least of these. They won, they lost. Over and over and over, thousands of times, they chose. Some choices were easy, many were not, some with celebration, some with anguish and lost sleep.

To you who were spouses. Yesterday...you were there, you sent them off. You kept it together...work, farm, family, you took up the slack. And many times it was you who bound the wounds of the warrior and gave them the courage to fight again.

Today we honor them, their memory, their legacy, their work, their contribution that has given us the quality of life that we now enjoy.

And today, on behalf of the grateful state of North Dakota and the people, we honor you...your sacrifice behind the scenes that made a difference then, now, and for our future.
Amen

RemarksMajority Leader Chet Pollert

Mr. Speaker and members of the Assembly, I am honored to have the opportunity to speak today. We gather in remembrance of those members who have come before us, but are no longer with us. Though this service is often somber and solemn, it is also a celebration. We celebrate the distinguished lives and careers of the members we have lost in the last biennium. These men and women were not just legislators; they were husbands, wives, mothers, fathers, friends, and colleagues. Because of the strides and sacrifices made by each of them, North Dakota is a better place. Every member of this body understands the special privilege we are afforded as legislators. But we also recognize that we stand on the shoulders of giants. It is those we honor today whose efforts laid the foundation for this chamber. Trust me when I say, our legislative accomplishments would not be possible without the hard work and dedication of those that came before us. We now follow in their footsteps and pray that we can have the same impact on future generations that they have had on us. Serving in this Assembly is not just a sacrifice for us as members, but also for our families. Everyone in this chamber understands first-hand how difficult it is to leave our loved ones and communities behind for four months at a time. Undoubtedly, our service to the state of North Dakota would not be possible without our families. We are honored and grateful to have family members of the former representatives here today. We recognize your service and sacrifice and the role you have played in making North Dakota the place it is today. Thank you for sharing your loved ones so that the people in your communities could have a voice in this chamber. We often refer to this chamber as the People's House, and I truly believe it is. Every other year, these members would drop everything and head to Bismarck to do the people's work. They left behind their families, friends, loved ones, and careers. They did so willingly out of a sense of service for our great state. These men and women were regular North Dakotans who chose to do extraordinary work. They believed their efforts would make a difference in their communities and build a brighter future for their children and grandchildren, and it has. I want to thank all of the families for coming today, and we invite you to join us for a reception at the conclusion of this service.
